• Brown's Chapel

Located on Wynn Brook Drive, off Burge Mountain Road. Visited by Marie Byers and Eugenia Bridgeman.

Mary Garren	6 July 1818	13 June 1892
Joseph Garren	14 Aug 1812	3 July 1883

Since this was the Old Brown's Chapel cemetery, it is believed there may be other graves, but none are marked.

• Calvary Episcopal Churchyard Cemetery

Take Interstate 26 West from Hendersonville, At Exit 13, turn right, stay on Old Highway 25, and pass through Fletcher. The cemetery is on the right, about one and one-half miles.

Surveyed by Ray Anderson, George Jones, Velma Beddingfield, Jack Jones, Vee Beddingfield, Bert Sitton, J.C. Lee, and Harriet Hill on 25 May 1994.

Beginning at the southwest corner, rows running south to north.

• Ebenezer Baptist Church Cemetery

Take Highway 64 East out of Hendersonville, cross over Interstate 26, and at about one mile turn left on Howard Gap Road. After one block, the church and cemetery are visible on the left.

Surveyed by Ray Anderson, Evelyn M. Jones, R.A. Goodrich, George A. Jones, and Clyde Barnwell.

Starting at the corner of Howard Gap Road and the back church drive, rows run north to south.

Little River Baptist Church Cemetery

Located on Crab Creek Road in Transylvania County, North Carolina. This cemetery is being published because the editors find that a number of our researchers have ancestors buried there.

The cemetery is divided into four sections. Each section begins at the church end of the cemetery. Section One is parallel to the road to the Community Center.

- Section I—Rows 1-27
- Section II—Rows 28-52
- Section III—Rows 54-79
- Section IV—Rows 81-86

Despite our careful recording and rechecking, there will be errors and some unmarked graves left out. We would appreciate notification of any you might find.

Some data was supplied by people through family Bibles, public records, and personal knowledge.

Mountain Grove Baptist Church Cemetery <sup>Polk</sup>

This cemetery has been called by several different names; Sunset View, Chigger Hill, as well as McCraw and Mountain Grove.

Located south of Deep Gap on McCraw Mountain in Polk County, approximately 400 feet from the Henderson County Line. Visited originally by George A. Jones and Kelly Jackson on 23 January 1988 and again on 2 April 1989 by Mrs. Gene Staton, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. C.E. Staton, Jr., Elsie Goepfert, Paul Jones, George, Evelyn Jones. Memory Logan McCraw, and Tommy Wayne McCraw, some of whom are related to families buried here. They were able to supply from personal knowledge and family records, information that would have otherwise been lost forever, as all the graves are marked with fieldstones. Some of those counted on the first visit were missing on the second. The corner stones of the building that was used both for a school and a church are visible on the north side of the cemetery. The building burned many years ago from an overheated stove.

People that lived in the area at one time were: McCraws, Ezekial Brimson, Cull Jackson, Raymond McCraw, Lewis Bradley, Cephus Paris, and wife Liza Ann Jackson Paris.

On the lower right-hand side of the church nearest the Greenville Highway there are approximately seventy to seventy-five graves marked with white stone crosses. These are the graves of slaves, freedmen, and their children. The names of those families were recorded on microfilm, stolen a couple of years ago from the parish house office and are not available now.

• St. Paul Episcopal Church Cemetery

Visited by Bill Barnwell, George Jones, and Ray Anderson in 1993.

Shaw's Creek A.M.E. Zion Church Cemetery

Take Highway 64 West from Hendersonville, turn right at Campground Historical Marker. There is a small sign at the cemetery (about 1/2 mile).

Surveyed by R.A. Goodrich and Barry Hollingsworth, 23 November 1991

Historical Note:
Alexander L. Maxwell was a white soldier in Co. A, 25th N.C. Infantry. He is buried in Edneyville N.C. This U.D.C. Marker is in the wrong cemetery. There were no black troops in the N.C. 25th. One of the founders of this church was named Alexander Maxwell, but not Alexander L. Maxwell. The church founder was never a Confederate soldier; however, this is probably where the mistake was made.
