• Fletcher Family Cemetery

From I-26 take Fletcher Exit No. 13, turn right, go three traffic lights to Howard Gap Road, and turn right. Go approximately one mile. Cemetery is up on a small hill on the right. Large sign is clearly visible.

As late as the 1960s, at least twenty-three graves were marked at least with fieldstones, at least four with inscribed markers. Vandalism has all but destroyed this cemetery. Two graves, John and Martha's, are covered completely with cement slabs. John, at least two of his three wives, some of his children, and some servants rest here.

♣ Hiram King Family Cemetery

Hiram King gave land for a graveyard and a school nearby. The cemetery was called Kings Graveyard. For a short period in the 1930s and 1940s it was called Edith's Grove Cemetery. There are some slave graves in the back part of the cemetery, at the edge of the woods, marked with fieldstones.

From Hendersonville, take 64 East about 5 miles from I-26 overpass to Pace Road (State Road No. 1726), turn right and go one-half mile past Edneyville Elementary School. Cemetery is on the right.

Surveyed by Marie Byers and Eugenia Bridgeman in 1991. Updated 1993 by George and Evelyn Jones and Ray Anderson.

Footstone B.K., m. in 1799
Rebecca Shipman King	25 Nov 1777	17 Feb 1845

Samuel's wife's stone is gone. Vandals have destroyed and removed many grave stones. The cemetery is approximately sixty feet x thirty feet in size. There are approximately twenty graves marked with fieldstones. Samuel King was a Revolutionary War Soldier.

• Lanning-Pittillo Family Cemetery

Highway 64 East from Hendersonville, two miles to Fruitland Road. Turn left, go two and seven-tenths miles, turn left again on Cemetery Road, one-half mile to cemetery.

Surveyed by Ray Anderson, George A. Jones, Clyde Barnwell, and Helen Ingle in April 1993

Beginning at the southwest corner, rows running south to north.

Thomas Family Cemetery'

Located on Crab Creek Road one-fourth mile west of Crab Creek Baptist Church on Michael Justus's Property. This land once belonged to Mr Justus's great grandfather, F.B. McCall. Information from Mr. J.B. King to Mrs Mabel Justus, from legal and family records show the burials were before 1834. The Thomas family had owned much acreage in the Crab Creek section of Henderson County.

"Two of the little Thomas girls used to play house up on the hill. They both died of diptheria. They were buried where they played, on the hill."

2 fieldstones [Thomas children] before 1834

Thompson Family Cemetery

South on Highway 25, right onto Green River Road, four miles to Rock Creek Road, go past the Camp Ground to Old Lincoln Maybin property on right. Up on the bank, in some trees.

Visited by Vee Beddingfield, Helen Ingle, Ray Anderson, George A. Jones, and Lynn Mullinax on 6 January 1993

2 Thompson children's graves, cleared and marked with fieldstones.
