HC-2018-21

Hendersonville, NC – April 26, 2018

On Monday, April 9th, Henderson County made the switch to a redesigned County website in partnership with Municode Web. The County website can be used on all devices including desktops, laptops, tablets, and smartphones. Among the new features of the website are:

- compatibility with any modern device or browser
- a robust search feature
- improved customer forms
- a user-friendly design

With the growth of the internet and the increasing reliance on smartphones and tablets, more and more Henderson County citizens are interacting with County government online, and as a result expect a website that is web standards-compliant, up-to-date, and mobile-friendly. In addition to addressing these needs, the new site is easily kept up-to-date. Changes and new content including customer forms can be implemented quickly.
