FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Ruthie Rosauer Photography on Display at the Henderson County Public Library

HC-2018-26

Hendersonville, NC – May 9, 2018

Photographer Ruthie Rosauer grew up in New Jersey where she took trees for granted. Moving to West Texas in mid-life she literally wept day after day in longing for trees other than the treacherous mesquite (those thorns really hurt!) or occasional cottonwood. She never took trees for granted again. She now resides in western North Carolina with her husband and two dogs, surrounded by beautiful trees.

“These Trees” runs from April 14 – June 28, 2018 at the Henderson County Public Library.

Join Ruthie Rosauer for a live program, “For the Love of Trees”, here at the Library on August 22 at 2:00 pm for a virtual tour of trees in all their multi-faceted splendor: roots, bark, leaves, flowers, whole trees and intriguing shapes as sculpted by Mother Nature through the four seasons. Woven into this ‘valentine’ to the arboreal world are music, poetry and anecdotes.

Ruthie is also the author of the book “These Trees.” Contact her at www.RuthieRosePhotography.com
