Public Input Meeting for East Flat Rock Community

HC-2015-55

Hendersonville, NC - November 4, 2015

Residents, business and property owners in the East Flat Rock Community are invited to give input at a meeting for the development of the East Flat Rock Community Plan. The Public Input Meeting for the East Flat Rock Community will take place on Monday, November 9, 2015 at 5:30 p.m., Hillandale Elementary School. “The public input meeting represents a good opportunity for the people in East Flat Rock to make their thoughts known and strongly influence the direction of the plan for their community,” says Henderson County Senior Planner, Autumn Radcliff.

The East Flat Rock Advisory Committee will guide the community’s planning process. Ms. Radcliff says, “The planning committee will use the public input received throughout the planning process to develop meaningful recommendations.”

A map of the community planning area is available online at www.hcplanning.org by clicking on the East Flat Rock Community Plan link. It is also available on printed flyers posted in the county offices and in the Planning Department at 100 North King Street, Hendersonville.

If residents and owners of the East Flat Rock Community are unable to attend the public input meeting, they can provide input through an online survey available at www.hcplanning.org.

For more information about the community planning process, please contact the Henderson County Planning Department at (828) 697-4819 or email: planning@hendersoncountync.org.
