The property to the south of the subject area contains the existing Shepherd Memorial cemetery. The property to the west contains agricultural land with several small storage sheds utilized to maintain the property. District Comparison:

Residential One (R1): “The purpose of Residential District One (R1) is to foster orderly growth where the principal use of land is residential. The intent of this district is to allow for medium to high-density residential development consistent with the recommendations of the Comprehensive Plan. This general use district is typically meant to be utilized in areas designated as Urban (USA) in the Comprehensive Plan.” Maximum residential density in Residential One (R1) district is twelve (12) units per acre (LDC §42-10).

Regional Commercial (RC): “The purpose of the Regional Commercial District (RC) is to foster orderly growth where the principal use of land is commercial. The intent of this district is to allow for commercial development consistent with the recommendations of the Comprehensive Plan. In accordance with the Comprehensive Plan, the district will allow for and provide commercial development that: (1) includes a variety of retail sales and services, public and private administrations, offices and all other uses done primarily for sale or profit on the local, community, and regional level; (2) is directed largely to Community Service Centers as defined in the Comprehensive Plan; (3) is compatible with adjacent development and the surrounding community; and (4) will minimize congestion and sprawl. This general use district is meant to be utilized in areas designated as Urban (USA) in the Comprehensive Plan (LDC §42-26).

Comparison of Districts: The existing Residential One (R1) zoning district allows primarily for high-density residential development. The R1 zoning district has a permitted density of 4 unit per acre and a maximum density of 12 units per acre. The R1 zoning district does not have a maximum impervious surface requirement or maximum gross floor area requirement. The existing Regional Commercial (RC) and proposed RC allows primarily for commercial, light industrial, and large retail operations. The RC zoning district does not allow for any residential structures but has listed maximum density of 16 units per acre. The RC zoning district does limit the total impervious surfaces to 80% but does not limit the total gross floor area of structures.

Adjacent Zoning: Residential One (R1) zoning is found to the north and southeast of the subject area. Community Commercial (CC) zoning is found to the west of the subject area. Industrial (I) zoning is found east of the subject area.

County Comprehensive Plan (CCP) Compatibility

The CCP Future Land Use Map identifies the subject area as being primarily within the Conservation Area classification. Portions of the subject area also contain the Industrial Area and Urban Services Area classifications.

Conservation Areas: The CCP shows the subject area is within a Conservation Area. The CCP states “This category includes land areas that are intended to remain largely in their natural state, with only limited development. Such areas should be targeted for protection through regulations and incentives Conservation areas are lands that generally exhibit any of the following characteristics: 1. Sensitive natural areas such as steep slopes, floodplains, major wetlands, forest reserves and wildlife conservation areas, and key watersheds 2. Areas of historic and archeological significance 3. Local, state or federally managed natural areas 4. Areas managed for agricultural, or forestry land uses 5. Other areas yet to be defined” (CCP, pg. 138)

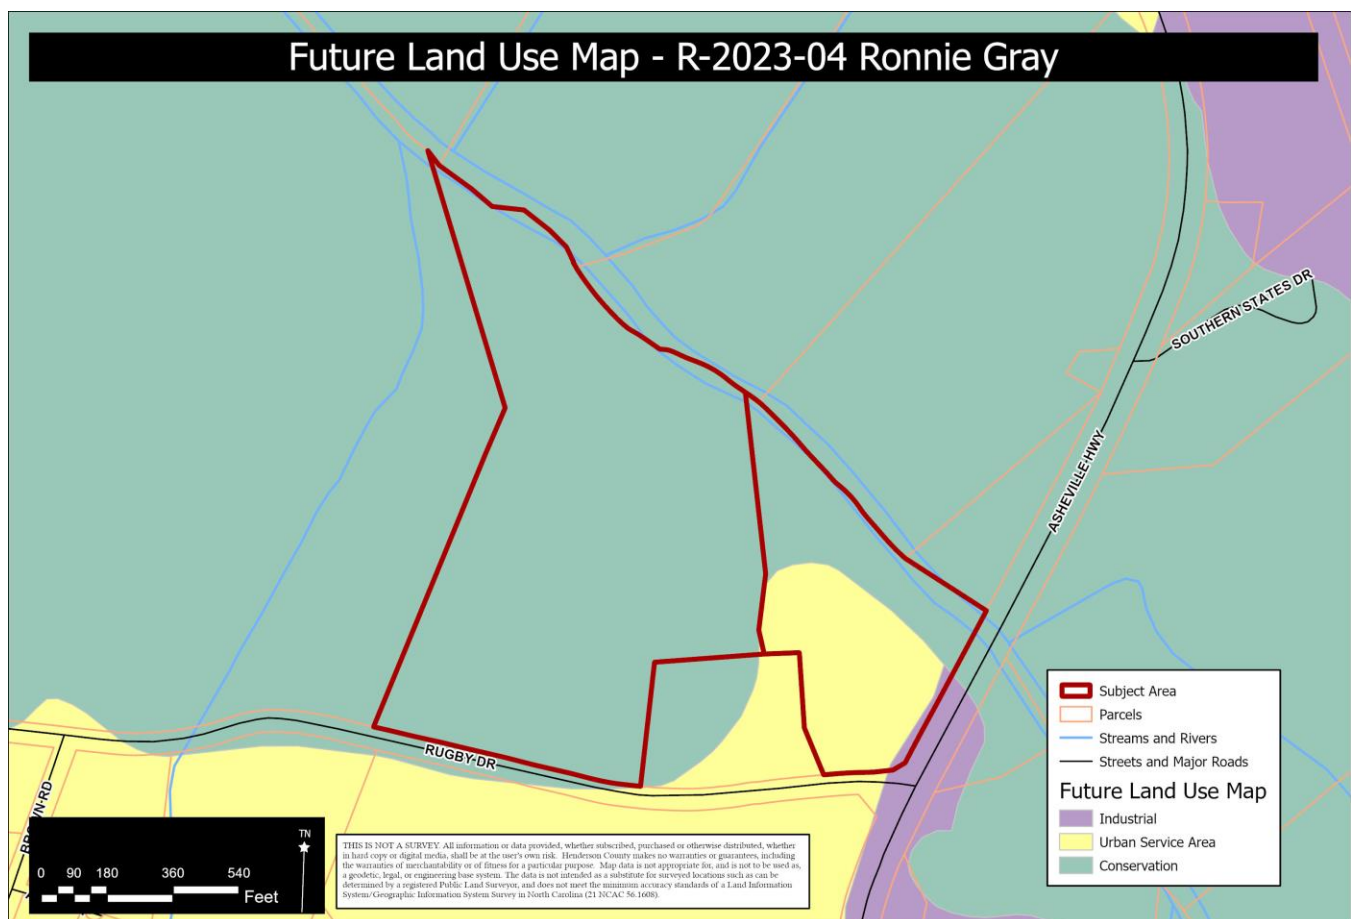

Flood Hazard Area: Portions of the subject area are encumbered by the 100-year and 500-year flood hazard areas as well as the floodway. Mud Creek is located north along both parcels included in this zoning map amendment application. Any future development on either parcel would require a floodplain development permit.

Urban Services Area: The CCP shows the subject area located in the Urban Services Area (USA) for Growth Management Strategy. The CCP states “The USA will contain considerable commercial development at a mixture of scales: Local, Community, and Regional, as defined below. In particular, all Regional Commercial development should be concentrated here.

Commercial development will exist within predefined zoning districts whose standards and configuration are in keeping with the surrounding community.” (CCP, pg. 133, #4.)

Industrial: The CCP states that, “Most defined industrial areas should lie within the Urban Services Area, and in other areas on a very limited basis. Most industrial uses should be segregated from other uses except for Regional Commercial uses. Industrial areas depicted on Map #24, Future Land Use Map are derived from existing industrial zoning districts, as well as from those area depicted upon Map #8, “Committee of 100” Recommended Industrial Development Zones.” (CCP, Pg. 140).
